

Moulton Niguel Water District
and the Building Industry Association of Southern California Invite You!

Water Reliability Forum: State of Water Supply and Impact to South Orange County

Tuesday
November 13, 2018
11am - 1pm

BIA of Southern California
24 Executive Park, Suite 100
Irvine, CA 92614

Lunch available at 11am

With very limited access to local groundwater, South Orange County faces unique water challenges. From infrastructure improvements to efficiency programs, the forward-thinking investments made by the country's largest wholesaler, Metropolitan Water District of Southern California, have been crucial in meeting South Orange County's water demands. Learn how Metropolitan Water District and State agencies are continuing to implement innovative initiatives to plan for a resilient water future.

Join us for an engaging conversation with top leaders in the water and building industries as we hear about the state of water supply and discuss how public agencies and the private sector can work together to ensure water reliability for South Orange County now, and for years to come.

Featured Speakers:

Jeff Kightlinger
General Manager,
Metropolitan Water District
of Southern California

Jeff Montejano
Chief Executive Officer,
Building Industry Association
of Southern California

Karla Nemeth
Director,
California Department of Water Resources

Moderated by:
Joone Lopez
General Manager,
Moulton Niguel Water District

The Water Reliability Forum is a free event with lunch included. Please RSVP directly at bit.ly/MNWDWaterForum2018, or for more information, contact:

Medha Patel
Moulton Niguel Water District
Email: MPatel@mnwd.com
Cell Phone: (949) 795-2233

Ana Gromis
Building Industry Association of Southern California
Email: agromis@biasc.org
Cell Phone: (951) 756-5813